

BE INSPIRED TO TRAVEL

| BY HELÉNE RAMACKERS

When times get tough, we can rely on our memories to get us through those hard moments. Now more than ever, we want our readers to be inspired by the best travel opportunities to indulge in once the time is right.

ANGAMA MARA, KENYA

A remarkable safari lodge in Kenya is the owner-run Angama Mara, inspired by the Swahili word for ‘suspended in mid-air’. Located high above the floor of Africa’s Great Rift Valley, Angama Mara overlooks Kenya’s Maasai Mara, considered by many as the most incredible game reserve on the continent.

Guests can choose between two intimate camps of just fifteen tented suites each, a private airfield and access to the Mara below, tailor-made safari days and a famously warm Kenyan welcome. Days are as action-packed or as gentle as guests choose them to be. The Mara Triangle is home to Africa’s great mammals, a mere 10-minute drive from the lodge, and experiences to choose from include hot air ballooning, walking safaris, cultural visits to neighboring Maasai villages – or simply do nothing at all.

NABOISHO CAMP, MARA NABOISHO CONSERVANCY

Set in the 210km² private Mara Naboisho Conservancy, Naboisho Camp offers spectacular game viewing, from the herds of antelope that dot the plains of this wilderness corridor throughout the year to the high concentrations of predators, including lion and cheetah.

The real magic of Naboisho Camp is its sheer exclusivity – you'll experience a level of safari solitude and serenity simply unheard of in the busy Serengeti and Masai Mara reserves. With just nine spacious tented suites, Naboisho is an intimate and elegant safari camp that balances your wilderness experience with discreet creature comforts. Even better, Naboisho Camp offers the options of fly camping, walking safaris and night drives. If you have a truly adventurous spirit, don't miss out on this once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to immerse yourself in the magic of the African bush.

SABI SABI, SOUTH AFRICA

Stress, overwhelm, burnout, over-saturation ... these are just some of the flip sides of modern life, where ultra-convenience and instant gratification are the norm. Sabi Sabi Private Game Reserve in South Africa provides the ideal antidote to these complaints, forcing guests to slow down, narrow their focus and reignite their appreciation for the wonders of a world that can't be summoned at the touch of a button.

Located in a vast and wild landscape of the Greater Kruger, Sabi Sabi Private Game Reserve was established four decades ago, offering a luxury safari experience in the South African bushveld. Incorporating the uniquely sumptuous details in each of its four National Geographic Unique Lodges of the World, Sabi Sabi is committed to preserving the natural environment in which it is set.

ST HELENA ISLAND, SOUTH ATLANTIC OCEAN

With its uniquely rich diversity of heritage-based attractions, both built and natural, St Helena offers many things to see and lots to do — from visiting the Georgian town to the rugged coastline, from the rolling hills to the stark yet striking geology at Sandy Bay. There is so much more to the island than visitors might imagine.

St Helena is home to the most varied heritage and nature, breathtaking views from the highest peaks, inviting waters, and 100% quaintness. Situated in the South Atlantic Ocean, at 15° 56' south and 5° 45' west, and measuring just 47 square miles, it is one of the remotest settled islands in the world. A sub-tropical paradise, it is also one of the most spectacular as far as contrast goes.
