

COLOUR IN THE MONITOR LIZARD

DID YOU KNOW?

Monitor lizards are oviparous, meaning they lay eggs and the baby develops in the egg like a chicken. They lay between seven and 30 eggs, which they often cover with soil or put in a hollow tree stump to protect them.